

INTRODUCTION

William King, Baron of Ockham, Lord Byron's son-in-law, was created Earl of Lovelace in 1838. Soon after he bought and extended the house now known as Horsley Towers (off A246) and made it, rather than Ockham Park, his principal seat. In 1860's Lord Lovelace began to build a series of cottages, lodges, schools etc. in East Horsley and on the estate in a distinctive 'gothic' style using polychrome brick, often with bands of flint. Several of these are passed and much of the route is over the former Lovelace estate.

THE ROUTES Choice of 12 or 18 miles, common route to CP7. YOU MUST FINISH BY 4pm. The grid ref to the unmanned CP's is followed by a brief description of location and the question to be answered on your checkcard in capital letters. The answer should be obvious once you reach the correct location. Historical notes, where appropriate, follow in brackets.
